“ Thinking back over the many years we worked together in real estate, I am reminded of what a loyal and dependable person Betty was and how she worked hard to assist her clients. In reflecting, I have to talk about our lunches together. Each week we would go to lunch for our "office meeting". We both loved any kind of food so we always had a hard time deciding where to go each week, but finally one of us would make a decision, and off we went. We would order and start eating, but Betty was always only about half finished with her meal when I was completely done. She accused me of eating fast and I accused her of eating slow. Over time, I learned to finish my meal, and then sit back and relax with an extra glass of tea while she finished. The good times!!!!
